Encke's Comet-Its Expected Ap-The Providence Journal says :

"Encke's comet is due, and the stargazers are turning their telescopes to the skies in the hope of discovering the presence of the expected visitor. It is interesting chiefly for performing its revolution within the boundaries of the solar system for the comparatively short period within which its revolution takes place, and for the reason that we know more about it than we do of those vast etherial creations, which visit our system and then run off into space.

"Encke's comet, although it was really discovered by Mr. Ponson on its return in 1818, was seen four times before its identity was determined. It was first defected by a French discoverer in 1786, then by Miss Caroline Herschel in 1795, again by a Frenchman in 1805, and lastly by M. Pons, in 1816. Astronomers began to mark the simularity of the crusts of the four comets, and M. Encke, by combining the observations that had been made, demonstrated that it was one and the same comet which had appeared at these different times. Encke in predicted its return in 1822, the position which it would occupy among the stars, and also that it would only be seen in the southern hemisphere. He had the happiness of finding his predictions verified by the observations of an astronomer at New South Wales. Since this time, there bave been thirteen returns of this eccentric visitor to its per-ibelion, every one of which has been predicted with the greatest accuracy.

"The orbit of Encke's comet is an ellipse, at an angle of thirteen degrees to the plane of the earth's orbit. At its nearest point it is 31,000,000 miles, and at its most remote point it is 377,000,000 miles from the sun. Its perihelion is between the sun and Mercury, and its aphelion is between Jupiter and the Asteroids. Its motion, like that of the planets, is from west to east, and its revolution is completed in about 1210 days, subject to a variation which is caused by the disturbing influences of the planet-ary masses near which it comes in its eccentric course. "Encke's comet is by no means a remarkable one. It is a telescopic comet, and consists of a circular patch of neb-ulous light, a few minutes of an arc in diameter, and somewhat condensed toward the centre. Though usually only visible through a telescope, it has been distinctly seen by the naked eye. Such was its appearance in 1828, when it was and its light was equivalent to that of a star of the fifth magnitude. At common times there is no trace of a tail; but on rare occasions a slight one has been discerned, once as a faint brush of light extending from the comet towards the sun and again with a second appendage opposite the first.

"During July the comet rises half an hour after midnight, and on the 16th of the month the place was midway between the Pleiades and Iota Aurigae, and on the 26th it is between Iota Aurigae and Beta Tauri. Astronomers all over the world are sweeping carefully its track with their telescopes."

The Soda Lukes of Mexico. The lake of Tescoco, a short distance from the capital of Mexico, and communicating with the city by means of a canal, is one of the greatest natural curiosities of that country. In the centre is a barren island, with a hill composed of volcanic rock, and known as El Penon de los Panes, or rock of the baths, rising from the surface. This desolate spot is famous for the manufacture of crude soda, or tequesquite, a manufac-ture not more remarkable for its primitive method than its vast resources. The earth of the valley adjoining the lake is impregnated with a species of sods, and Lake Tescoco itself is a con-a rainy season of four months and a dry season of eight, its range of expansion and contraction is from 220 square miles at its maximum to 89 square miles at its maximum. A calculation of the contents of the lake was made in 1851 when the lake was considerably contracted, and the proportion of solid matter was ascertained to be not less than 18 per cent. The Penon soda stills are not numerous, but illustrate the rude principle at work all around the lake. They are simply mounds of ac-cumulated dark, bluish mould, on which arge round holes are made here and In these holes bags are placed and in the bag the impregnated, frostylooking earth found every morning along the lake. Over this earth water is poured, and the liquor which sinks through the dirt, and is drained from the Brocade Jaconets. bag, passes into a vessel below. The solution thus caught is evaporated over a fire, and tequesquite is the result. This is the whole process, which is the same that was used in the days of Montezuma With this primitive system of manufacture, the lake, according to the estimates of the School of Mining in the City of Mexico, produces annually 1,680,000 pounds of crystalized, or pure soda, and 3,696,000 pounds of tequesquite, or im-

DEHR SIR—I take pleasure in recommending your ROSADALIS as a very powerful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one a case of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pronounced himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine. The other a sase of secrotula, of long standing, which is rapidle improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will soon recover. I have carefully examined the formula by which your Rosedaris is made, and find it an excellent compound of alterative ingredients.

Yours truly.

January 11, 1868. Resadalis will Cure the Wors Cases of Scrofula - Read the Statement Below and Despair

WILSON COUNTY, September 10, 1867. Dr. J. Lawrence: Dear Sir—My youngest daughter, aged five years, has been dreadfully afficied with rerofula nearly all her life. I tried a great many physicians, but without relieving her much; in fact, most of them said there was no hope of cure. During the last spring she was worse than ever; her body and limbs being covered with sores and blotches—with face and eyes badly ulcerated and swollen. While in this condition I was advised by Dr. L. A. Stith to try your Rossdalis. I at once procured three bottles, and commenced giving it to her. The effect was margical. In less than a month, to my great astonishment, she was entirely well. well.

C., September 15, 1867, Dr. Lawrence: Dear Sir—In 1882 my son, now aged five years, was vaccinated with what proved to be impure matter, which completely destroyed his health. He has been afflicted with an inveterate and extremely troublesome Eruption of the Skin, sometimes breaking out in sores, &c. Rosadalis was pres ribed by my family physician, Dr. A. D. Mcore. After taking it a few weeks my son became and remains entirely well.

Beak Sir. This is to certify that I have been afflicted with Rheumatism for the last five or six years, many times unable to move. I tried all medicines recommended to me for the disease, without receiving any benefit. Having heard "Rosadalia" highly spoken of, I procured a bottle, and, finding some relief, continued it until I am happy to say that I am completely well.
